Description: THIS RESOURCE IS NO LONGER IN SERVICE, documented on January 25,2022. Department of Pharmacology and Toxicology is the professional home to 18 faculty, 11 research faculty, 22 graduate students and 3 postdoctoral fellows. They offer graduate training leading to the Ph.D. degree in Pharmacology or Interdisciplinary Toxicology. Their faculty also participate in the Interdisciplinary Biological Sciences (IBS) training programs. Trainees receive a broad-based education to prepare for a career in translational research. An emphasis on therapeutic development, identification of drug targets and mechanisms of organ injury prepare our trainees for a career in drug discovery and medical toxicology. All of our students currently receive a $24,000 yearly stipend and we pay tuition! Their 'magnet areas' for research include behavioral and drug abuse pharmacology, drug discovery and antibody therapeutics, mechanisms and therapies of organ toxicology and neurodegenerative diseases, and CNS and vascular ion channels. Extramural research funding obtained by the faculty has increased to more than 5 million annually, and the Department ranks in the top quarter of all medical school pharmacology departments in the country in NIH funding.
