Proper Citation: AmplifX (RRID:SCR_014465)

Description: A software for managing, testing, and drawing primers. The software can locate primers for target sequences, calculate the quality score, predict amplified fragments and dimers, and create graphic representations of the primers.

Resource Type: software application, software resource, data analysis software, data processing software

Keywords: primer design, target sequences, amplification, graphic representation, data analysis software

Resource Name: AmplifX

Resource ID: SCR_014465

Record Creation Time: 20220129T080320+0000

Record Last Update: 20260811T043504+0000
