Description: Integrated healthcare biobank that operates under certified conditions and strict SOPs. Enables biomedical and translational researchers to perform their analyses using high quality biospecimens and data to generate reliable and reproducible research data. Core offers modular biobanking portfolio that can cover workflow from blood collection to storage, including all pre-analytical steps and their documentation. Offers spectrum of additional services ranging from DNA/RNA extraction and virtual microscopy to entire management of sample and data flow for national and international research consortia. Provides secure conventional and automated storage of samples at various temperatures as well as secure data management.
