Description: Bio-Job.org is a sister site to PROTOCOL-ONLINE.ORG and offers free job posting to not-for-profit employers such as universities, governments, research institutions/organizations. Currently industrial job listing is also free. * Employer's Services: Post a Job, Manage Jobs Posts, View Resumes * Jobseeker: Announce your availability and submit your resume to hundreds of Employers that visit this site. Employers can contact you directly as soon as a suitable position becomes available. Why is this site created: It's never been an easy job to recruit qualified people for employer or PI who runs a lab--Not only have you to pay a fee for job listing that could be as high as hundreds of dollars, you have to go through all the hassle of setting up an account, dealing with your account manager and making the payment. In an era when science is free, genome data is free, publications are free, and why is job posting not free? With this belief in mind, we created this site to allow free job posting for academia. What types of jobs can be posted here: Jobs in any scientific discipline and biotech jobs can be posted.
