Proper Citation: IPython (RRID:SCR_001658)

Description: A web-based interactive computational environment where you can combine code execution, text, mathematics, plots and rich media into a single document. It offers a comprehensive library on top of which more sophisticated systems can be built. The project provides an enhanced interactive environment that includes support for data visualization and facilities for distributed and parallel computation.

Abbreviations: IP(y)

Synonyms: IPython Interactive Computing

Resource Type: software resource

Keywords: publication, authoring tool, rich media, parallel computing, data visualization, python, computing, notebook

Funding: US Department of Energy DE-FG02-03ER25583; DOE-Oak Ridge National Laboratory 4000038129
