Description: Databases that represent sets of pre-compiled information on biological relationships and associations, interactions and facts which have been extracted from the biomedical literature using Ariadne's MedScan technology. ResNet databases store information harvested from the entire PubMed in a formal structure that allows searching, retrieval and updating by Pathway Studio user. ResNet is seamlessly installed when Pathway Studio is installed. There are several available ResNet databases: *ResNet Mammalian Database includes data for Human, Rat, and Mouse *ResNet Plant Database has data on Arabidopsis, Rice and several other plants. Features of ResNet: *All extracted relations have linked access to the original article or abstract *Synonyms and homologs are included to maintain gene identity and to obviate redundancy in search results *Users can update ResNet as often as required using the MedScan technology built into all Ariadne products *Updates are made available by Ariadne every quarter To purchase Pathway Studio software with ResNet database, for information, or to schedule a web demonstration, call our sales department at (240) 453-6272, or (866) 340-5040 (toll free)., THIS RESOURCE IS NO LONGER IN SERVICE.
