Description: Organization that provides academic and industrial clients access to functional genomics technologies, services and partnering solutions including genome-wide expression, copy number profiling, miRNA expression, DNA-protein interaction (ChIP-on-chip), Illumina high-throughput sequencing including nucleic acid quality and quantity assessment. For gene silencing and ectopic expression purposes, they offer high-titer shRNA and ORF lentiviruses targeting genes of interest. They also offer customized services e.g. preparation of gain or loss-of-function cell lines and protein interactomics-based services (yeast two-hybrid). In addition, they provide access to wide array of computational data analyses. BMGen also offers partnering deals for clients interested in customized integration of several technologies.
