Proper Citation: ModelMaker (RRID:SCR_009024)

Description: Multi-threaded, parallel and CUDA based application that provides an interface to the R statistical language, MATLAB, Accord and Aforge APIs, along with Neural Maestro to accomplish fMRI, EEG, speech signals, commodity price analysis, general machine learning, classification and time series analysis and forecasting. Because it unifies research development work in MATLAB, R and C++, it provides a mathematical canvas the permits researches to experiment with both pure and hybrid models that use the best of all software development languages.
