Description: Open access software platform to facilitate calculation of quantities related to light and lighting. Users can upload spectra and platform will calculate relevant quantities including luminance, chromaticity, and ?-opic radiance and ?-opic daylight luminances from spectra, generate visualisation of spectrum, and enable export of calculations in tabular form.

Resource Type: data access protocol, software resource, web service

Keywords: Light quantities calculation, luminance, chromaticity, ?-opic radiance, ?-opic daylight luminances, spectra, spectrum visualisation generation

Availability: Free, Freely available

Resource Name: luox

Resource ID: SCR_020994

Record Creation Time: 20220129T080353+0000

Record Last Update: 20260814T043020+0000
