Proper Citation: robustrankaggreg (RRID:SCR_024299)

Description: Software R package for aggregating ranked lists, especially lists of genes. RRA method uses a probabilistic model for aggregation that is robust to noise and also facilitates the calculation of significance probabilities for all the elements in the final ranking.

Abbreviations: RRA

Synonyms: Robust Rank Aggregation

Resource Type: software resource, software toolkit

Keywords: aggregating ranked lists, lists of genes aggregation,

Availability: Free, Available for download, Freely available,
